For S.O.C. Bureau Field Offices have maintained relocation sites

[redacted] In selecting these relocation sites each SAC was advised that civil defense or any other agency having responsibility for allocation of space under emergency conditions should be consulted on a confidential basis to make certain that the space in question had not been promised to another organization.

Recently the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) has emphasized the necessity of all agencies finding relocation sites for field installations, thus creating the possibility of conflict in the establishment of some relocation sites. Since we have not made known to ODM the identity of our field relocation sites, there exists the possibility of ODM recommending to another agency an installation which is now being maintained as the relocation site of one of our field offices. Although we have consulted civil defense at the local level in the establishment of our field relocation sites, we have not consulted ODM and, according to [redacted] of ODM, we are under no obligation to do so. However, Mr. [redacted] is of the opinion that it might be advisable to make known to each of the ten Regional Coordinators of ODM the identity of all field relocation sites within their areas, thus avoiding the possibility of any conflict arising as to the use of a particular installation as a Bureau relocation site. Since ODM Regional Coordinators are now taking an active part in assisting agencies to find relocation sites. You will recall that in negotiating for our field relocation sites we have requested the individuals whom we contacted to make certain that they do not reveal the fact that this Bureau is maintaining that particular installation as a relocation site. All Bureau relocation sites are classified "Secret."

Yesterday at 9:30 a.m. Inspector J. J. McGuire of your office, Special Agent J. E. McArdle of the Liaison Section and I conferred with 2 representatives of the C and P Telephone Company, Messrs. Hal Sampson and J. S. Brownfield, regarding a new emergency priority one plan being formulated for long-distance telephone calls made from the Washington, D. C., Metropolitan area during emergencies. The plan, designed to be made available for use of only a few top officials of each Government agency, makes use of a special telephone number which will automatically put the call through automatic equipment into a Switchboard located outside of the Washington Metropolitan area and through which point a long distance call may be placed to another area.

Mr. Sampson could not furnish us with the identity of other cities which have or will have similar systems, nor could he advise us whether the Washington, D. C., system could be used by a Bureau official who happened to be physically located outside of the Metropolitan area when an occasion arose to place a priority one emergency long-distance telephone call.

Mr. Sampson promised to furnish the additional information desired. You will be advised of further developments at our next meeting with Mr. Sampson.

SAC, Boston (100-21913)

SUBJECT:

FIELD RELOCATION

Re Bureau letter, February 5, 1957.

In accordance with Bureau instructions, Mr. [redacted] Acting Regional Mobilization Coordinator, was contacted and advised as to the relocation site of the Boston Office. He had previously been informed as to the relocation site of the New Haven Office. Mr. [redacted] was informed that all Bureau relocation sites are classified "Secret" and that, therefore, their identity should not be disseminated.

Mr. [redacted] indicated that a number of agencies had down-graded their relocation sites from the classification "secret" and that he personally felt that there was no real need for relocation sites to have the top classification, inasmuch as under emergency conditions effective coordination can only be achieved where all of the agencies are familiar with the various sites. He also said publicity had been given to specific shelter and relocation areas designated by ODM. However, he indicated that he would be guided by the classification designation of the Bureau.

It was also made clear to Mr. [redacted] that, because of the confidential nature of our work, it would be necessary that the space occupied by each of our field offices be secure and that it not be shared with another agency. Further, that the same prohibition would apply as regards a switchboard or other communication facility at the relocation site. Mr. [redacted] understands that the Bureau is under no obligation to make known the identities of our field relocation sites and that we are doing so in order to avoid any possible conflict with another agency or an infringement of our existing agreements.

Close liaison will be maintained with Mr. [redacted]

Rebulet, 2/5/57, instructing that the Office of Defense Mobilization Regional Committees be immediately advised of the relocation sites of Bureau offices within their regions.

This is to advise that on 2/7/57, Mr. [redacted] Regional Defense Mobilization Committee (RDMC), Region 2, was contacted by SA JOHN W. O'BEIRNE in the absence of Mr. FRANK E. JOHNSON, Acting Regional Coordinator.

Mr. [redacted] was informed regarding the relocation sites of the Albany, Buffalo, Newark and New York offices, all of which are located [redacted]

He assured SA O'BEIRNE that the information he received will be classified "SECRET" and that no other agency will be furnished this information. Mr. [redacted] stated that prior to Operation Alert 1957, a directory of the relocation sites of the agencies represented on the RDMC will be prepared and distributed to those agencies which submit written requests. This directory is to be classified "SECRET" but it will not include the relocation sites of FBI offices.

In addition, Mr. [redacted] assured SA O'BEIRNE that the listing of this information with his committee will insure that other government agencies will not attempt to usurp these locations. He was advised that it is not desired that our locations be shared with another agency due to the complications which would arise in adequately securing FBI space and in sharing limited communications facilities.

SUBJECT: DEFENSE PLANS - DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
FIELD MOBILIZATION PLANNING

Spec

FOR S.O.C.

By memorandum 1/30/57 SAC, Seattle, reported-a conference with USA Charles P. Moriarty, Western District of Washington, relative to Department of Justice Mobilization Planning. During the course of this conference, Mr. Moriarty made reference to a communication addressed to Paul Williams, United States Attorney at New York, from Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, reportedly setting forth a summary of the Department's ideas for planning.

Attached is a copy of Mr. Tompkins' memorandum to Mr. Williams, highlighting the results of the afternoon session of the Emergency Planning Conference held in the Department of Justice on January 22, 1957, and raising 12 points discussed at the conference. Among the points discussed was the question of clearly defining the authority of the 10 U. S. Attorneys who coordinate Department of Justice emergency planning with the ODM Regional Mobilization Committees, as well as the relationship of these U. S. Attorneys with the governors and other local authorities in their respective areas. There is also raised the question of whether each U.S. Attorney should consult essential personnel of their offices who are in the active reserve as to whether they should be withdrawn from the active reserve. None of the points raised in this issue directly affect the FBI.

Mr. Bennett Willis, Jr., in making available the copy of Mr. Tompkins' memorandum to Mr. Williams dated January 25, 1957, advised that the Department will be submitting a memorandum to each of the 10 Regional U.S. Attorneys within the next 10 days, setting forth the Department position on several of the points raised in the memorandum. Mr. Willis advised he would make a copy of this communication available to the Bureau. It is anticipated that upon receipt of a copy of the forthcoming communication to the 10 Regional U.S. Attorneys that contents of that document will be made available to the 10 SACs who represent Bureau interests in the 10 ODM Regional Mobilization Committees.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda setting forth the status of unfinished items being considered in connection with Seat of Government relocation plans.

GAS MASKS

The first shipment of the 290 gas masks originally ordered 12-5-55 were received in December, 1956. On 2-18-57 [redacted] advised that the manufacturer was having difficulty with the manufacturing of an appropriate face piece for the larger size mask but that this difficulty has been corrected and the balance of our order should be received by March 15, 1957. The Administrative Division is following this matter closely and upon receipt of the entire shipment, appropriate distributions will be made [redacted]

[redacted] Field Offices, thus providing gas masks [redacted] of those offices.

RELOCATION SITES

The processing of the preliminary data necessary to the completion of the survey to determine whether current field relocation sites are in areas relatively free from radio active fallout has been partially completed by the Laboratory. The Laboratory advised this project will be completed as rapidly as possible.

ACTION:

(1) Administrative Division upon receipt of the balance of gas mask will make appropriate distributions as set forth above.

(2) The Laboratory Division will continue its efforts to complete the processing of the data upon which a determination will be made as to whether Bureau field relocation sites are in positions believed to be relative free from radio active fallout.

Reurmemo 2/18/57, advising that you had informed the Executive Officer, Regional Defense Mobilization group in Atlanta, of the relocation site of your office. Bulet of 2/5/57 requested that you make known to the Regional Coordinator of the Office of Defense Mobilization the identity of the field relocation site of each office in the ODM region covered by your office.

b7E

For your information, [redacted]

[redacted]
[redacted] The relocation site of each of these offices should also be made known to the Regional Coordinator or his Executive Officer of the ODM Regional Mobilization Committee. Specific instructions as to the manner in which this information should be given is set forth in Bulet of 2/5/57.

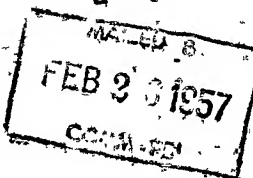

With reference to the "letter of understanding" which ODM recommends be obtained from the owner or management of the building wherein relocation sites are situated, it is not being used by the Bureau. We are relying on the oral understanding and agreement which has been arrived at between the SAC of each office and the responsible individual having control or custody of the relocation site. Unless it appears necessary, it is not believed that any mention of this should be made to the ODM official in the Atlanta area.

You should take immediate steps to make known to the appropriate ODM official the relocation site of other offices in the area covered by [redacted] and advise the Bureau when this has been done.

SUBJECT: BUPLANS - FIELD RELOCATION

Rebulet 2/5/57.

Mr. [ ] Regional Defense Mobilization, Room 821, Peachtree Seventh Building, Atlanta, Georgia, was contacted 2/11/57 by ASAC JAMES L. MCGOVERN and SA EDWARD T. KASSINGER. Mr. [ ] was advised that the relocation site of the Atlanta Division of the FBI [ ] that this information carried the classification SECRET and that the information should not be disseminated. Mr. [ ] was also advised specifically that due to the confidential nature of the Bureau's work that this space could not be shared with another agency and that we could not share a switchboard or other communication facilities with another agency. Mr. [ ] was specifically advised that the Bureau realized that it was under no obligation to advise concerning the relocation site of the Atlanta Office, but that it was felt that such advice would result in the elimination of possible conflict in the assignment of space to some other agency. Mr. [ ] advised that [ ] was not assigned nor was it contemplated that it be assigned to any other government agency.

It is noted that Mr. [ ] stated that it was his understanding that a "letter of understanding" should be prepared to record the preliminary arrangements made by a Federal agency for the use and occupancy of property and facilities in the event of an emergency and made a Photostat copy of the ODM directive pertaining to this "letter of understanding," available. No commitment was made in this regard to Mr. [ ] but the Photostat copy which he made available is enclosed herewith.

For the past several years the Bureau has been attempting to determine from the Department of the Army what, if any, priority markings were to be given to intelligence and law enforcement officials for use on their automobiles during a national emergency to assure free access to and through military areas. This matter has been followed by Bureau Liaison and during the latter part of 1956 it was determined that the matter had been turned over by the Chief of Transportation, U.S. Army, to Assistant Chief of Staff, Intelligence (ACSI), and from ACSI to the Continental Army Command (CONARC), Fort Monro, Virginia. ACSI has followed CONARC and as far as ACSI knows, no decision has been made in this matter.

It is noted that under date of February 18, 1957, the Baltimore Office advised that they had been requested by G-2, Second Army Area, to inform that office how many priority markers would be needed for Bureau automobiles within the Second Army Area. Indications were in this letter that a distinctive decal had been designed for use on vehicles entitled to priority access to and through military areas in a national emergency. On February 21, 1957, the contents of the Baltimore letter was discussed by SA D. J. Sullivan with Colonel John W. Price, Policy Branch, ACSI. He advised that he was not aware that a final decision had been made in this matter by CONARC. He stated that the last action he had personal knowledge of was that CONARC had suggested to ACSI a distinctive plate to be used on the outside of automobiles and ACSI had not agreed to this and had suggested something along the lines of a decal. On February 26, 1957, Price advised Sullivan that the officer within his office who has been handling this matter with CONARC is presently on temporary duty outside the Pentagon and that he, Price, had been unable to determine whether CONARC had advised ACSI of a final decision in this matter. Price expected the action officer to be back within the next two weeks and would then ascertain the status. lm Attached are pages 3, 4, 5, and 11 of captioned document.

Page 3 is revised to eliminate reference to a specific individual where an organization has the responsibility, thus reducing the necessity for revising pages because of the possible change in leadership of an organization. In this instance the name of Dr. Arthur Flemming has been eliminated.

Page 4 is revised to more clearly state the procedure to be followed by Attorney General in selecting his destination following an order to relocate.

Page 5 has been rewritten to reflect our most recent arrangement with the Air Force Command Post in the Pentagon relative to receipt of military warnings.

Page 11, paragraph 1, is revised to reflect the installation of  in the relocation site.

ACTION:

Each person receiving a copy of this memorandum should insert the attached pages in captioned document and destroy the old corresponding pages.

The Confidential Paper Destroyer, with triple chamber combustion, reduces to a white ash the heaviest types of paper and cardboard material in packages and bundles or loose, including classified documents, office and accounting records of all types, old paper money and stock certificates, blue prints and bank and insurance company records. This destruction is accomplished by the unique hydroxolation process of changing the loaded materials into combustible gases and introducing secondary air through scientifically placed small holes in the charge chamber to induce complete combustion.

In using the Paper Destroyer it is not necessary to separate paper, documents and records before burning. Simply put them in the Destroyer in packages or bundles, light the material and it will burn until completely destroyed. No auxiliary firing devices are used on the unit and there are no moveable parts to require servicing.

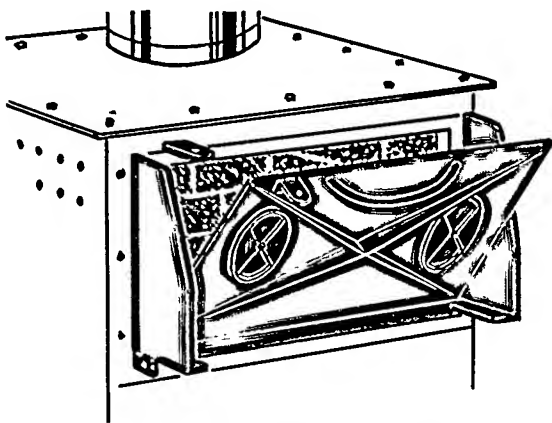

The units are tamper-proof. Once the burnable material is placed in the charge chamber and ignited, locks on the loading door and ash drawer insure absolute security while the material is being reduced to a fine white ash.

Silent Glow Confidential Paper Destroyers are engineered and designed for either outdoor or indoor installation, with both types of operation equally effective. The Destroyers operate at low temperatures, giving a longer use-life and eliminating the dangers of excessive heat and flash-back while loading.

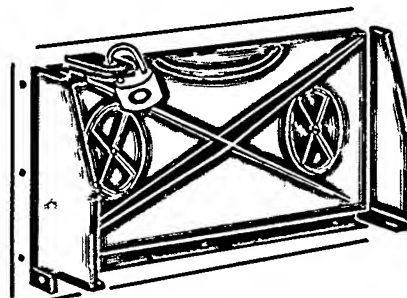

The Confidential Paper Destroyers are constructed of heavy gauge welded steel casings, lined with heavy refractory. Equipped with cast iron grates. Standard models are available in charge chamber capacities of 1½, 3, 5 and 10 bushels per loading. Special sizes can be designed and produced to meet specific requirements. Our combustion engineers invite your inquiry.

On 3/12/57 the clerk in charge of filing Buplans  phoned and indicated that in connection with "Prodip," since there are a number of items in this program relating to foreign diplomats which are transmitted  from time to time during each month, they will be placed in separate folders behind a major file divider re Prodip. These items are: (1) List of officials and employees of Soviet bloc establishments in Washington, D. C., and New York; (2) officials and employees of Soviet bloc establishments in Washington, D. C., to be given priority handling in an emergency and WFO personnel requirements for this program; (3) officials and employees of Soviet bloc establishments in New York to be given priority in an emergency, and personnel and transportation requirements of the New York Office in connection with this program. In this way, obsolete documents can be destroyed as replacements come in without any danger of confusion.

RECOMMENDATION:

None. This is for your information. It is a satisfactory filing arrangement.

Page 5 has been revised to reflect that in Washington, D. C., the Federal Civil Defense Administration has responsibility for making determination as to action to be taken following the receipt of a warning from the Command Post (paragraph 4).

Page 9 (paragraph 3) has been revised to better reflect the situation as to gas masks at our relocation site.

Page 10 has been revised to show the correct spelling of [ ]

Page 11 (paragraph 4) has been revised to reflect that separate key lists for [ ] coding machines have been made available to the Department for use with Bureau-Departmental communications which should not be read by other agencies in the Interagency Communications System.

Pages 13 through 19 have been revised to bring up to date the list of emergency relocation sites as made available by the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Page 20 has been revised to reflect that Assistant Director Trotter will remain behind to operate any Bureau facilities remaining in Washington at such time as the key staff is ordered to relocate.

By memorandum dated 12-5-56, captioned as above, each individual receiving a copy of this memorandum as well as ASAC Gearty, WFO and the SAC's at WFO and Richmond received copies of a list of relocation sites of various Government agencies.

Due to changes in relocation sites and additions to the list of agencies having emergency relocation sites, the list submitted by the 12-5-56 memorandum is obsolete and should be destroyed. The charts which accompanied that memorandum should be retained. The enclosed list is current as of 3-19-57 according to Mr. [redacted]

The enclosed list, being a "~~Top Secret~~" document, must be maintained in accordance with instructions set forth in Executive Order 10501 but should be available in the event recipients thereof are called upon to take the Director, the Attorney General or other Bureau or Departmental Officials to a given relocation site in a period of emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

(1) That each person receiving a copy of this memorandum be given a copy of the enclosed list of emergency relocation sites of other agencies.

(2) That the enclosed memorandum to SAC, WFO, with copy to SAC, Richmond, enclosing 4 copies of the enclosed list to SAC, WFO and 2 to SAC, Richmond be approved and dispatched.

0 AUXILIARY SPEC FOR

This is another in the series monthly memoranda setting forth the status of unfinished items being considered in connection with Seat of Government relocation plans.

GAS MASKS

The first shipment of the 290 gas masks originally ordered 12-5-55 was received December, 1956. Information previously received indicated balance of the order would be received no later than March 15, 1957; however, on 3-18-57
 the Administrative Division made contact with appropriate individuals [redacted] and could get no explanation as to why balance of gas masks had not been received. Administrative Division is following this matter closely.

b7E

RELOCATION SITES

The Laboratory Division is nearing completion of the survey to determine whether field relocation sites are in areas relatively free from radioactive fallout. Laboratory is making efforts to complete this project as rapidly as possible.

b7E

ACTION:

(1) The Administrative Division upon receipt of the balance of the gas masks will make appropriate distribution [redacted]

[redacted] field offices.

(2) The Laboratory will continue its efforts to complete the processing of the data upon which a determination will be made as to whether Bureau field relocation sites are in positions believed to be relatively free from radioactive fallout.

While at [redacted] on April 3, 1957, SA [redacted] and I talked with [redacted]. [redacted] referred to our previous discussion with him on November 29, 1956, concerning [redacted].

W.V. It will be recalled that, in accordance with Bureau authorization, certain information concerning [redacted] the subject of a Security Matter - LWW investigation, Pittsburgh Division origin, was made available to [redacted] on a strictly personal and confidential basis.

[redacted] related that he was contemplating not renewing [redacted] contract for the next year. He said that he has discussed this matter preliminarily with [redacted] pointing out that [redacted] is leaving and since [redacted] would be brought in, it was normal to afford the new employee an opportunity to name his assistant provided, of course, the assistant met the other requirements of the board and him. [redacted] stated that while he had not noticed untoward activity on the part of [redacted] during his employment [redacted] nevertheless, in view of his background, he thought this would be an easy way out.

I tactfully informed [redacted] that, of course, under no circumstances could he use the information furnished to him by the Bureau in his getting rid of [redacted]. [redacted] said he understood this fully and the Bureau could be assured he would not violate the confidence placed in him by the FBI. Once again, [redacted] expressed his gratitude and asked that his gratefulness be made known to the Director.

This is another in the series of monthly memoranda setting forth the status of unfinished items being considered in connection with Seat of Government relocation plans.

GAS MASKS

The final shipment of the 290 gas masks originally ordered 12-5-55 has been received. The Administrative Division is now making appropriate distribution

Field Offices.

RELOCATION SITES

The Laboratory Division has completed its survey relative to the relation of field relocation sites to areas believed to be subject to heavy radioactive fallout.

Recommendations have gone forth to fourteen field offices suggesting more desirable relocation site areas. Two offices, Los Angeles and Miami, have since found satisfactory relocation sites.

ACTION:

The Administrative Division is distributing the gas masks above-mentioned and the Laboratory Division is closely following twelve field offices relative to their finding satisfactory relocation sites.

Mr. Tolson:

You asked if we had considered [redacted] as a relocation site from the standpoint of fallout from nuclear explosions, and how good a site it is in this respect.

We did consider [redacted] from this standpoint and consider it to be satisfactory. It could be improved by going farther from Washington in the same direction, but only if buildings of equally substantial construction were available. [redacted] is in what we consider the [redacted] area which means that based on average wind directions, [redacted] area extends as far [redacted] is so substantial that we would not expect any structural damage from bombs on Washington of larger than the maximum size now available.

There are disadvantages to [redacted] (1) It is necessary [redacted] to get there, and (2) it is located [redacted] However, [redacted]

I feel there are advantages [redacted] that far outweigh the disadvantages. Foremost is the fact that we have [redacted] Second, we are in an advantageous location from the standpoint of principal communications. We have, of course, at this time our own microwave installation, but American Telephone & Telegraph (AT&T) under contract is building an expanded microwave network for the relocation centers of all critical agencies. NEED FOR EMERGENCY COMMUNICATION
FACILITIES AT RELOCATION SITE

Nichols

Re memorandum from Mr. Nichols to Mr. Tolson, 5/22/57, outlining the communication facilities maintained on a stand-by basis for the operation of the Seat of Government at the relocation site [ ] in the event of an emergency. The annual cost of these facilities on the stand-by basis is $27,789.84.

The above-referred-to memorandum suggested that Domestic Intelligence Division (DID) re-evaluate the necessity for continuing various of the landline installations in view of the need for further economy in the Bureau's fiscal operations. It was further suggested that the DID and the Laboratory Division consider discontinuance of [ ] teletype circuit since we already have a radio teletype circuit between those two points.

By separate memorandum 5/28/57, the Laboratory Division pointed out that [ ] radio circuit is designed to back up the land wire teletype service only, since experience has demonstrated that such line facilities are periodically inoperative. The Laboratory was of the opinion that this facility should be eliminated only if all other service was being similarly cut.

The DID in a memorandum 5/27/57, called attention to the fact that when [ ] installations were made in 1954 it was the opinion of the Executives Conference that the facilities installed were the bare essentials with which the Bureau might be able to operate for a very limited period of time.

Taking into consideration the pressing need for stringent economy, these matters have been carefully re-evaluated and discussed by a representative of this division with representatives of the Laboratory Division, DID, and Records and Communications Division. While it is firmly believed that all present facilities are desirable, consideration could be given to the discontinuance of some without rendering our emergency plans inoperative. These items are set out as follows in the order of what is believed to be their relative expendability:

(1) [ ] private line teletype circuit - annual cost $2,051.40. It is noted that the contemplated use of this line would be primarily during the partial evacuation of Washington when the Bureau would still have an operating force at the Washington Headquarters. If Washington were completely evacuated or destroyed by enemy action, this line obviously would have no value. If this line were discontinued, even during the partial evacuation of Washington, the Bureau still would have the private line telephone circuit and courier service between [redacted]

[redacted]

(2) [redacted] private line telephone circuit - annual cost $696. This line is necessary only if Washington is destroyed by enemy action since otherwise [redacted] could be reached through the regular [redacted] private line telephone connected through the Bureau switchboard to the regular [redacted] private line telephone. In evaluating this service, it is noted that should Washington be destroyed it is reasonable to suppose that [redacted] would have been bombed or that at least its evacuation would have been ordered. In either event, the [redacted] could not be contacted through these lines since they do not connect with the [redacted] relocation site. A

(3) There was a difference of opinion as to the relative importance of the next two items. Accordingly, they are being listed together:

(a) [redacted] private line teletype circuit - annual cost $2,517.60. The contemplated use for this line is for the sending and receiving of radio messages received at or to be sent [redacted]

Although [redacted] the teletype line is actually routed [redacted] an area which would suffer considerable damage, if not total destruction, in the event of an H-bomb attack on Washington. Should this line be discontinued or become inoperative through enemy action, it is backed up by a radio teletype circuit. The Laboratory Division feels this radio circuit could handle all traffic between [redacted] [redacted] probably longer period in an emergency, during which time it might be possible to lay a direct teletype line for long-range usage. The Laboratory Division pointed out that the equipment which it has in operation in this regard is not designed for consistent use over a long period of time and that such equipment would constitute a considerable expense factor. A further alternative for contact between these two points would be the use of a courier which is considered feasible since the roads connecting the two points are not roads which will be used as evacuation routes and hence should not be congested.

Memorandum for Mr. Tamm

(b) [redacted] private line telephone circuit - annual cost $1,056. In the event of emergency, this line will be used to communicate with the Washington Field Office which will relocate [redacted]. It will also be used to locate and direct the activities of other Seat of Government personnel since [redacted] is the Bureau's emergency contact point. Alternative means of communication would be by commercial long-distance telephone, teletype, or radio. In connection with these three other means of communication, it is noted that we now have on a stand-by basis both telephone and teletype lines from [redacted]

[redacted] On the teletype line, although we pay only for the distance between [redacted] the line at present actually goes as far [redacted] to reach a teletype exchange. It is also pointed out that a 450 watt field office type transmitter is to be set up by Washington Field Office in the event of relocation. A courier between [redacted] [redacted] is considered impractical because of the distance involved and the anticipated congestion on the roads connecting these two points. (WV)

It is reiterated that, according to the three divisions with planning responsibility, all presently installed facilities are desirable but that should the need for economy be compelling, consideration could be given to discontinuing any or all of the above-listed services without imperiling the Bureau's operations during an emergency. It is felt that the cancellation or curtailment of any additional communications facilities [redacted] would more seriously affect the Bureau's operations under such an emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

That this matter be referred to the Executives Conference for decision as to whether any or all of the above-enumerated items be discontinued.

Mr. Nichols' memorandum to Mr. Tolson, May 22, 1957, reviewed communications costs [redacted] which are being paid to maintain emergency wire line services. Among the services enumerated is a

[redacted] private line teletype circuit costing $209.80 per month. This teletype circuit connects the emergency relocation center with [redacted]

[redacted] In the event this line fails, it is presently backed up by a radio circuit (not microwave as stated in referenced memorandum) which can be relied upon to maintain this important teletype connection until the wire services can be restored to operation. The Bureau's long-standing policy on communications circuits which must operate continuously 24 hours a day is to establish commercial land wire line service and where deemed advisable back up this service by radio in order to handle the periodic outages which are experienced.

With regard to the elimination of this [redacted] teletype line, it can be stated that the present radio circuit can handle the traffic between these two points; however, the degree of assurance that communications can be kept open will be reduced drastically. It is my opinion that this reduction should be initiated only if all other services presently serving the relocation center are to be similarly cut back in order to effect maximum economy.

RECOMMENDATION:

That the Laboratory's views with reference to the [redacted] teletype service be referred to the Domestic Intelligence and Records and Communications Divisions for consideration of the over-all cost problem [redacted]

In view of the cut in the Bureau's appropriations and the expressed desire for economy in communication costs, it is suggested that reconsideration be given at this time to our actual communication needs [redacted] with a view of cutting out various fixed cost facilities for which the Bureau is now expending $27,789.84 yearly on a stand-by basis. It may be the view of the Domestic Intelligence Division and the Laboratory that this cost can be reduced to a more reasonable basis in view of the less concern shown by Congress over the possibilities of imminent war as reflected by the desire of Congress to cut defense agency funds. The factors to be considered would include actual intelligence evaluation of the possibilities of the United States becoming involved in a hot war, the ability of the Bureau to get along in a full emergency on restricted communication facilities, personnel and their living accommodations [redacted] together with the risk involved of ever getting these facilities back now or in the future or in an emergency should we once give them up.

It is the feeling of the Records and Communications Division [redacted] [redacted] an absolute minimum of equipment to handle a limited emergency of short duration. What we now have is insufficient to carry on full Bureau operations for any extended period. Advice from the telephone companies involved [redacted] as well as the Long Lines Division of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, reflects that the area is woefully lacking in facilities, that there is a continuing, current demand for facilities on the part of other defense agencies, and that if we give up any lines we now have, the commercial companies will contract these lines to other agencies demanding them and the chances are most remote that if once given up we will ever have these facilities readily available to us in the future. Despite these conditions, while the facilities we now have are believed to be essential, the overriding need for economy makes it well worth considering as to whether we can give up some of the lines we now have.

It is suggested the Domestic Intelligence Division consider the feasibility of eliminating the [redacted] private line (telephone circuit). This would save $696 a year. We have three teletype circuits from [redacted] costing $162.30 each per month. This is one circuit above those recommended by this Division at the time of installation and at Mr. Belmont's suggestion the third circuit was added. If we eliminate one of these circuits, we would save an additional $1,947.60. We also have a private line [redacted] teletype circuit costing $170.95 per month. If this is eliminated, we would save an additional $2,051.40 a year. We now have five 2-way long distance trunks from [redacted] and five 2-way dial trunks (Essex telephone numbers). If we eliminate two of the long distance trunks and two of the Essex numbers, we would save an additional $4,104 a year. We also have at the present time a private line teletype circuit from [redacted] Radio Station which costs $209.80 a month. This circuit is used for transmitting coded messages from [redacted] to the radio station for transmittal to field offices. The Laboratory has installed a microwave radio teletype from [redacted] which is in operation. It is a duplex circuit which means it can be used to send and receive simultaneously. The private line teletype circuit over to [redacted] backs up the microwave radio teletype circuit in the event of mechanical failure. The Domestic Intelligence Division and the Laboratory may desire to consider eliminating the private line teletype circuit to [redacted], thereby saving an additional $2,517.60 a year.

Re memorandum Mr. Nichols to Mr. Tolson 5/22/57 suggesting that it may be the view of the Domestic Intelligence Division (DID) and the Laboratory that the cost of maintaining communication facilities at the relocation site may be reduced.

The commercial communication facilities now at our relocation site were carefully evaluated from the need standpoint at the time they were installed in 1954. It was the recommendation of the executives conference at that time that the facilities now installed at the site were the bare essentials with which the Bureau might be able to operate for a very limited period of time. In this the Records and Communications Division continues to agree.

Insofar as the threat of attack on the continental United States is concerned the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), in a report to the National Security Council dated 4/25/57, stated, "Neither the Intelligence Advisory Committee nor its Watch Committee have made any statement to the effect that 'the threat of attack on continental United States is not imminent nor as great as it once was,' and if it is in fact the prevailing belief among agencies (that war is not imminent or the threat as great as it once was) it would appear that the National Security Council should endeavor to correct this belief." It does not appear that there is any real change in world or domestic conditions since the communication facilities were installed and it has been Bureau experience that during periods of emergency our responsibilities become greater and our need for communication facilities increases with our responsibilities.

Memorandum Belmont to Boardman

RE: BUPLANS - RECONSIDERATION OF NEED FOR EMERGENCY COMMUNICATION FACILITIES
AT RELOCATION SITE

In the final analysis the cost of maintaining our relocation site is comparatively low since the only out-of-pocket expense we have in the maintenance of the site is the cost of the standby communication installations. The ODM continues to require that strategic agencies be in a position to meet their essential wartime functions, and if we are to meet our responsibilities in a period of emergency we must have adequate communication facilities. We have made known to ODM the commercial communication facilities which have been installed at our site, and if there is to be any reduction in these facilities we must, of course, make this fact known to ODM.

It is the opinion of the DID that we need all of the commercial communication facilities now at the relocation site; however, if the necessity for drastic economy overrides the need for our maintaining all of the facilities we now have, it is believed that the least amount of damage to our over-all installation would result by the discontinuance of:

1. The [redacted] private line teletype circuit [redacted].

2. The [redacted] link of the [redacted] private line telephone circuit [redacted]. * Under present conditions it is possible to go through the Bureau switchboard by use of [redacted] private line telephone circuit and from our Bureau switchboard go directly to [redacted] private line telephone circuit, both of which are in day-to-day use in Bureau operations. If there is need for avoiding Washington by telephone because of bomb damage, it is quite likely that [redacted] will also have been bombed, thus eliminating the use of the [redacted] private line circuit.

b7E

It is not believed that we could remain in a position to meet our emergency responsibilities by eliminating any of the [redacted] (teletype) circuits, nor are we in a position to give up any telephone circuits between [redacted] and the [redacted]

* This link of [redacted] circuit circumvents [redacted] and joins the regular [redacted] line at or near [redacted]

The Executives Conference on June 10, 1957, with Messrs. Tolson, Nichols, Holloman, Rosen, Boardman, Belmont, Nease, Parsons, Mohr, Roy Moore and Tamm being present, considered further Mr. Nichols memorandum to Mr. Tolson concerning communications facilities maintained on a stand-by basis for the operation of the Seat of Government at the relocation site [redacted] in the event of an emergency. The Conference was advised that there is in existence [redacted] a private line telephone circuit at an annual cost of $1,056. In the event of an emergency this line will be used to communicate with the Washington Field Office which will relocate [redacted]. It would also be used to locate and direct the activities of other Seat of Government personnel since [redacted] is the Bureau's emergency contact point. There are alternative means of communication such as commercial long distance telephone, teletype and radio. We have now on a stand-by basis telephone and teletype lines from [redacted]. The teletype line, actually, although we do not pay for it, [redacted] to reach a teletype exchange. It is also noted that a 450 watt field office type radio transmitter, although not installed, is available at [redacted] in case of an emergency. It could be installed in a period of one day. It is not felt that [redacted] private line telephone circuit is necessary.

The Conference unanimously recommends the discontinuation of [redacted] private line telephone circuit at a saving of $1,056 per year.

By memorandum dated March 21, 1957, each individual receiving a copy of this memorandum, as well as ASAC Gearty, 20 WFO, and the SAC'S at WFO and Richmond, received up-to-date information concerning the relocation sites of key agencies.

Due to changes in the relocation sites of various agencies and changes in routes to these sites, the lists and charts previously furnished are obsolete and should be destroyed.

The attached list and charts are classified "~~Top Secret~~" and must be maintained in accordance with instruction set forth in Executive Order 10501. However, they should be available in the event the recipients thereof are called upon to take the Director, the Attorney General, or other Bureau or Departmental officials to a given relocation site in a period of emergency.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That each person receiving a copy of this memorandum be given a copy of the attachment, which contains:

a. A list of emergency relocation sites of other agencies.

b. A chart entitled "Relocation Sites, Key Agencies," dated July 1, 1957.

OFFICE MEMORANDUM * UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Mr. Belmont

DATE: June 12, 1957

FROM : R. R. Roach

SUBJECT: RUNNING MEMORANDA MAINTAINED
IN THE LIAISON SECTION

The purpose of this memorandum is to call to your attention the number of running memoranda presently maintained in the Liaison Section and to recommend that some of these be discontinued due to the fact that there is no valid reason for their continued maintenance.

There are thirteen running memoranda maintained in the Liaison Section identified as follows, and grouped as those which it is felt could be discontinued and those which should be continued:

Memoranda Which Could be Discontinued

The memoranda pertaining to our relations with other agencies.

_____ were started many years ago when either our relations with them were not completely amicable or well-established, or the agencies were new. These memoranda served a very useful purpose in the past, but it has been noted in more recent years there has been little or no reference to them.

Memorandum for Mr. Belmont
Re: Running Memoranda Maintained
In the Liaison Section

They, of course, have been kept up to date at all times. Keeping them up to date in effect is duplication of effort because nearly all of the factual data contained in these briefs are also contained in main files on the agencies involved or in individual case files. Such running memoranda are worthwhile and justifiable only if they serve an active and current need. Existing relations with [redacted] are such that through liaison b7E we are able to avoid the causes of conflict and to handle all matters that arise promptly, not permitting them to drag out and possibly cause trouble.

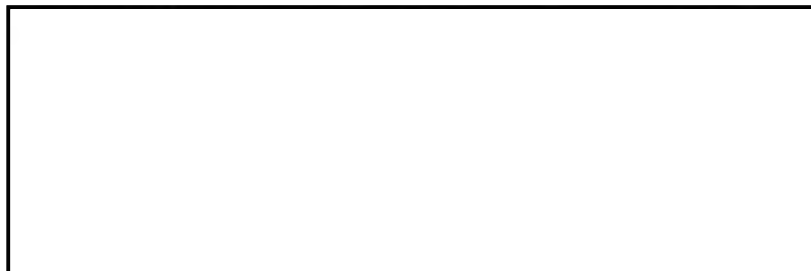

The memoranda pertaining to the histories of our relations with other agencies, with the exception of that memorandum pertaining [redacted] have outlived their usefulness. Although our relations [redacted] are now satisfactory, this agency has extremely varied, extensive, and involved operations which present many fields of potential conflicts and differences. Therefore, it is felt that this particular memorandum [redacted] should be continued for the time being. In view of current conditions, the need for many of the memoranda is not the same as when they were originated. By clearing out certain "deadwood" among our needed memoranda, we will be bringing our operations up to date and at the same time practice needed manpower economy.

The material maintained in the various running memoranda will not be destroyed, but will be put in the main file on each of the agencies where it can be readily referred to, and if the need should arise in the future the material can be quickly brought up to date.

RECOMMENDATION:

In view of the foregoing, it is recommended:

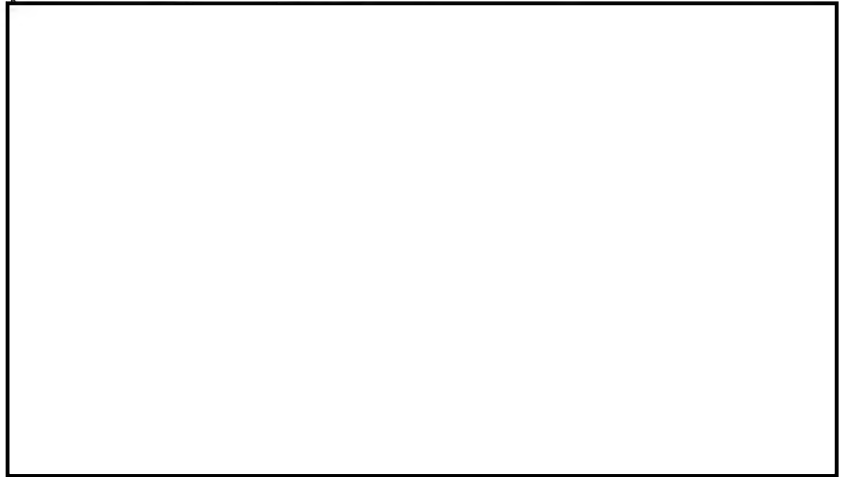

- (1) That the following running memoranda be discontinued:

As you know, pending completion of the Interagency Communications System (ICS) commercial microwave system, the Bureau's microwave circuits from [redacted] control center are relayed through the microwave facilities [redacted]

It is, therefore, evident that under these temporary conditions, we are dependent upon [redacted] in the matter of patching our circuits through and in checking our circuits out. SA G. L. DAVY of the Electronics Section informed [redacted] several weeks ago that we were ready to check our circuits out whenever [redacted] was ready. On 6/26/57 SA W. E. STAHL of this Section was in communication with [redacted] and again reiterated our position of being ready and desirous of making final checks of the circuits. [redacted] advised that they were not ready as yet but would advise us when they would be.

This is but another indication as to the necessity of the Bureau establishing microwave facilities from [redacted] through the ICS commercial microwave system rather than continuing through [redacted]

ACTION:

This matter will be followed closely with [redacted] so that our microwave circuits will be checked out for proper operation prior to Operation Alert 1957.

There is enclosed for the SAC, a record captioned "Soviet Bloc Personnel in Washington, D. C., and New York." This document, which is current for July, 1957, should be substituted for the document bearing a similar caption which was current for June, 1957. The June item should be destroyed.

This should be filed in the folder entitled Soviet Bloc Officials in the United States.

According to a United Press dispatch of June 24, 1957, the Army has developed a new "Atomic Age" face mask to protect soldiers against inhaling radioactive fallout particles. This statement was checked with the Army Chemical Corps with whom the Laboratory has been maintaining a liaison concerning such matters.

Special Agent [redacted] of the Laboratory discussed this matter with Mr. [redacted] Research and Development Section, Army Chemical Corps. Mr. [redacted] stated that the Army is developing a new gas mask designated the E13. This mask will not be in production before March of 1959; however, it offers no particular improvement in protection over the E51 gas mask now in use and which it will replace. Mr. [redacted] stated the United Press dispatch was correct since any gas mask approved by the Army will be effective in protecting the wearer against inhaling either poisonous gases or minute particles of material in the atmosphere. These particles include germ warfare agents and radioactive fallout. The improvements in the new E13 gas mask consist of modifications in its air intake valves and the transparent windows in order that the wearer may have more mobility in performing his duties.

ACTION:

Periodic contact with the Army Chemical Corps will be maintained in order that the Bureau will be aware of any new developments in defense against chemical and germ warfare as well as radiation hazards. In view of the fact that the E13 gas mask will not be introduced for approximately two years and offers no new radical protection features, no further inquiry into this matter will be made by the Laboratory at this time.

(RADIATION)

THE ARMY HAS DEVELOPED A NEW ATOMIC-AGE FACE MASK TO PROTECT SOLDIERS AGAINST INHALING RADIOACTIVE FALL-OUT PARTICLES.

THE LIGHTWEIGHT MASK, NOW UNDERGOING FINAL TESTS, IS DESIGNED TO GIVE COMPLETE PROTECTION AGAINST WAR GASES, CHEM WARFARE AGENTS AND FALL-OUT PARTICLES. BUT IT WILL NOT PROTECT THE WEAR AGAINST DIRECT RADIATION.

THE MASK WAS DEVELOPED BY THE ARMY CHEMICAL CORPS AND THE JOHN T. RYAN MEMORIAL LABORATORY OF THE MICE SAFETY APPLIANCES CO. OF PITTSBURGH.

ADD ATOMIC, ANGEL'S PEAK

THE FLASH OF TODAY'S LAST MOMENTARILY BLINDED OBSERVERS ON ANGEL'S PEAK WHO HAD NOT WORN PROTECTIVE EYE COVERINGS. THE CLOUD SHOT UP AT A 10,000-FOOT-PER SECOND RATE AND TAPERED OFF AT ABOUT 40,000 FEET.

IT HEADED TOWARD THE SOUTHEAST, IN THE GENERAL DIRECTION OF LAS VEGAS, AND BROKE INTO TWO PARTS.

THE ENTIRE FREMONT'S FLAT AREA WAS CLANKETED WITH DUST.

EIGHTEEN KILOS OF PACKAGING MATERIAL FOR FOODS UNDERWENT THE SEVERE TEST TO DETERMINE THE MOST EFFECTIVE TYPE OF PACKAGE TO PROTECT FOODS FROM FALLOUT.

CIVIL DEFENSE TEAMS WERE SCHEDULED TO MOVE INTO THE AREA WHEN RADIATION REACHES A SAFE LEVEL TO TEST VARIOUS METHODS OF DECONTAMINATION OF EXPOSED FOODS. WHEAT EXPOSED TO THE FALLOUT IS TO BE MILLED AND THEN SENT TO WASHINGTON, D.C., WHERE IT WILL BE FED TO RATS IN AN "ALSCOPTIC" EXPERIMENT.

RABBITS AGAIN WERE USED IN STUDIES OF FLASH-BLINDNESS.

(DCID TESTS)

ATOMIC ENERGY COMMISSIONER WILLARD F. LIDDY PINPOINTED A NUMBER OF CRACKS TO RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL FOR A BAN ON NUCLEAR WEAPONS TESTS.

LIDDY SAID HE WAS "BY NO MEANS CERTAIN" THAT RUSSIA COULD NOT DEVISE WAYS TO TEST ATOMIC WEAPONS WHICH COULD NOT BE DETECTED BY THE U.S.

HE SAID A TESTING MONITORING WOULD MARK A REAL STEP TOWARD DISARMA-MENT. BUT HE EMPHASIZED IT WOULD HAVE TO BE ACCOMPANIED BY A FOOL-PROOF INSPECTION SYSTEM.

ADD ATCHIC, ANGEL'S PEAK

THE FCDA TOOK ITS CUE FROM FOREIGN COUNTRIES, PARTICULARLY THE SCANDINAVIAN AREAS, IN DESIGNING "CUPOLO" SHELTERS. THESE CONCRETE SHELLS SIX INCHES THICK CURVE UP ONLY ABOUT 10 FEET ABOVE THE GROUND. THREE DOME SHELTERS EACH 50 FEET IN DIAMETER WERE SCATTERED AT VARIOUS DISTANCES FROM GROUND ZERO. ANOTHER DUAL PURPOSE STRUCTURE, WHICH SERVES AS BOTH AN UNDERGROUND GARAGE AND NAZO SHELTER, WAS CLOSED OFF BY A 100-TON REINFORCED CONCRETE DOOR FOUR FEET THICK, WHICH IS AUTOMATICALLY SEALED WHEN BLAST PRESSURE ACTIVATES ITS PNEUMATIC ELBES.

THE INDIVIDUAL DOME SHELTERS HAVE BEEN ADVANCED BY THE AMERICAN MACHINE AND FOUNDRY COMPANY AS AN ECONOMICAL TYPE OF DOME SHELTER. THEY ARE BUILT BY PILING UP A MOUND OF EARTH OF PRE-DETERMINED SIZE AND THEN LAYING ON A SHELL OF CONCRETE. THE EARTH IS DUG OUT FROM INSIDE AFTER THE CONCRETE HARDENS.

THE DOME-TYPE SHELTERS, WITH CHAMBERS APPROXIMATELY SEVEN FEET ON A SIDE, ARE CAPABLE OF GIVING HIGHLY LIVABLE CONDITIONS FOR UP TO 30 PERSONS. THEY ARE EQUIPPED WITH FILTERED AIR INTAKES AND OUTLETS.

THE BLAST RIPPED OFF A DOOR AND CRACKED THE CONCRETE WALL OF THE CONTROL CLOCKHOUSE 14 MILES AWAY.

ITS SOUND WAVE BOUNCED OFF A STRATOSPHERE LAYER AND WAS HEARD IN REMO, 300 MILES AWAY.

INTERIOR DOORS AT THE CONTROL POINT SWUNG FREELY IN THE EARTH-QUAKE-LIKE SHOCK WAVE, THE AEC REPORTED.

THE ENTRY-WAY DOOR WENT FLYING OFF ITS HINGES AND A FOUR-FOOT LONG CRACK SPLIT THE THICK CONCRETE WALL NEAR THE DAMAGED DOOR.

A TOTAL OF NEARLY 1,000 MILITARY OBSERVERS OCCUPIED TRENCHES 3-1/4 MILES FROM GROUND ZERO, THE FIRST USE OF TROOPS CLOSE UP IN THE CURRENT SERIES.
